EXPERIENCE

FRONTEND-DEVELOPER

freelance project (startup)

2021 - Present

Starting from 2021, I became interested in the field of frontend development. I began to learn the fundamentals of layout and programming through JavaScript. Subsequently, I enrolled in IT-incubator for training, where I continued to delve into this field and got acquainted with frameworks such as React/Redux. I believe that a good programmer is always in a state of learning and deepening their knowledge, which is what I am currently engaged in. I participated in the development of projects such as creating cards for a note-taking app, which involves sorting and filtering based on specified conditions. Additionally, I was involved in a project focused on education and also took part in developing a section of an application that represents a social network (authorization, pagination, CRUD operations, working with Redux actions (thunks)
